"Fundamentally, Camilla is a businesswoman with a strong, generative, creative mind, a deep understanding of human beings, and a passion to serve...."

I've known Camilla Rees for more than 20 years, first as a business colleague, and then as a collaborator and personal friend. I know her to be honorable, thoughtful, thorough, empathetic, always straightforward, and highly intelligent. I have seen her effectively source underwriting for important projects, manage broadcast initiatives, interview guests on cutting-edge topics (sometimes with me), and strategize on a range of complex societal, health, and environmental issues. Fundamentally, Camilla is a businesswoman with a strong, generative, creative mind, a deep understanding of human beings, and a passion for serving. She is someone with whom I am very proud to be associated.

"A deep listener, highly generative, a supportive, confidential sounding board, and a solid rock...."

I have had the privilege to call Camilla my trusted friend and adviser since 2004 when she impressed me both with her superb business mind and her beautifully integrated personality. She is a highly intelligent and caring professional whom I heartily recommend to anyone interested in improving their health, leadership, or potential for impact. Camilla's vast expertise, which spans several decades of finance and business experience, combined with the study of wisdom traditions, brain science, and a wide range of approaches to health optimization, is a blessing for high-potential executives and totally right for the times. She is a deep listener, highly generative, a supportive, confidential sounding board, and a solid rock that any conscious business leader would be blessed to have as an ally.

"Through her open mind and exceptional network, she keeps learning, reflecting and sharing graciously. I can recommend her most highly as a very trusted adviser...."

"Camilla cares and has the courage to stand up on critical issues for us all – she has your and my interest at heart. I have known her since she was an investment banker on Wall Street in the 1990s. Some of the people, and topics, she has brought into my life have widened my perspective, deepened my thinking on global issues, and in the end, helped me reach clarity on my own life's purpose. For this, I am very grateful. In recent years, using strong communication skills and aptitudes, Camilla has become a distinguished change agent focused on health and environmental topics. She is today more on top of what matters for us all than ever before. Through her open mind and exceptional network, she keeps learning, reflecting, and sharing graciously. I can recommend her most highly as a very trusted adviser."

"Camilla's elegantly interwoven multifaceted expertise became ever more richly apparent to me as I worked with her on an array of projects and discussions. We started with EMF and added wide-ranging discussions of transformative healing approaches and working intensively on an important scientific research proposal. I could thus witness Camilla's organizational, communication and fundraising prowess, experience her refined healing skills – and develop our deep and treasured friendship. Camilla integrates these dimensions with an elegance, calmness and grace enabled by her lifetime of high-level training and experience. It is a profound pleasure to know and work with her."

"Camilla is highly intelligent, an integral thinker, big picture oriented, open to different points of view, a fountain of creativity, and is always inspiring and a joy to work with.... "

Camilla Rees, whom we have known and worked with for several decades, is a truly amazing, multi-dimensional woman of great range.

Whether as an accomplished businesswoman, or an effective health and environmental activist—she is one of the world's experts in wireless technology risks—or a master of several healing arts, Camilla has a light touch, is understated, and committed to service.

Camilla is highly intelligent, an integral thinker, big picture oriented, open to different points of view, a fountain of creativity, and is always inspiring and a joy to work with. She is both an exceptional executive as well as a devoted supporter of others, bringing outstanding communication/listening skills and a passion for learning to whatever she undertakes.

We love her!

“A pioneer on the forefront of important societal and health trends for decades....”

Camilla has been a pioneer on the forefront of important societal and health trends for decades. Not only is she well-grounded in research, she is compassionate and skillful in family systems health outcomes. The confluence of Camilla's natural abilities, her many acquired skills, and the breadth and depth of her serious interests is unique amongst people I have known in the human potential field for some 40 years. I highly recommend her to anyone on a path toward greater health and healing, or those looking to incorporate higher consciousness into leadership.

"...an intelligent, powerful business person who is a critical thinker, strong in both oral and written communication and a highly reliable person."

I have worked with Camilla Rees over several years and can tell you that she has remarkable skills in many areas. She is very well informed on many topics that are of great importance to our world right now, including environment, health and political issues. She is an intelligent, powerful business person who is a critical thinker, strong in both oral and written communication and a highly reliable person. Camilla also stands out for her valuable network, her diplomatic way of communicating with people, the ability to respond quickly to changing circumstances and for her professionalism. She has a good sense of humor and is a pleasure to work with.

"Camilla is one of the brightest stars in the health coach space. She brings decades of experience into her work with profound insights regarding the many root sources of dysregulation and disease, many of which most health practitioners are not yet even aware of. Camilla has been on the leading edge of health restoration and healing disciplines for a very long time, as well, and she never stops learning. I call upon Camilla for her wise counsel on a range of issues—and she has always come through!"

"Wealth of knowledge, brilliance of investigation, full presence and a heart that can share..."

"I have known Camilla for over 30 years, as a respected colleague, a trusted friend, a patient, an extraordinary researcher, an intuitive, and someone with life and health coaching skills that go way beyond most coaches practicing today. I have always seen Camilla as one of the most intelligent persons I know. She is especially knowledgeable about environmental factors, including the new wireless technology related risks, and how to create healthy environments. Camilla comes to the table with a wealth of knowledge, brilliance of investigation, full presence and a heart that can share. She is consulted by some of the leading health authors of our time and is an extraordinary resource"

“...a Force of Nature who must be reckoned with...and a uniquely valuable adviser to leaders and change agents. She's always a pleasure to work with.”

Camilla Rees is revered worldwide for her vital, pathbreaking work on advancing technologies, for the benign and against the life-threatening.

With her big picture perspective, she continually prompts breakthrough public insights into what needs to happen with EMFs, AI, renewable energy, social media, regenerative agriculture, health care reform, and other critical keys to human survival.

Through her online presence and persistent, effective speaking, writing, interviewing and organizing, she's a Force of Nature who must be reckoned with and a uniquely valuable adviser to leaders and change agents. She's always a pleasure to work with.

"Camilla is a powerful presence, and contrary to what one would expect, a humble listener. Watching her absorb and integrate is an experience in itself. She hears, probes, absorbs and comes up with wide ranging and creative solutions."

Camilla is a powerful presence, and contrary to what one would expect, a humble listener. Watching her absorb and integrate is an experience in itself. She hears, probes, absorbs and comes up with wide ranging and creative solutions. Her interests are many and yet there is a clear ark of connectedness between the myriad subjects she tackles. A financial industry executive, scientist, researcher, consultant, public speaker, and intuitive interested in the value of multiple perspectives and approaches to expand consciousness, she has an extended awareness on multiple fronts. A Renaissance woman, Camilla is able to integrate her interests in science with her deep knowledge of the dimensions of health and consciousness.

Her work in health and environmental advocacy, including electromagnetic fields, the smart grid and clean energy, has led her to become an author, a documentary and television producer, a radio host, and master of many healing arts, including being an educator in Imagery and facilitator of family and organizational constellations. No challenge seems too great.

Whatever she approaches Camilla brings to it a proactive and practical attitude that spearheads new and valuable programs into the world. She is a force of nature whose voice you will want to listen to.
